Author Belva Plain recently said loving is "caring more about someone else's life than your own." As Valentine's Day approaches, one wonders how many people any of us truly "love" based on her evaluation.

It would seem we have a fondness for many, a caring for several, and deep affection for some but true love would be reserved for a very few. Most parents would say they had that depth of commitment to their children but would hesitate to admit such feelings for their significant other. To love that much leaves us vulnerable so we hesitate. This February 14th let that special someone know how much you really care.

A Books Sanwiched In series may be started at Wayland Free Library if there is enough interest according to librarian Agnes Maszola. Jean Fogle is hoping that many other busy people would appreciate an occasional opportunity to bring a bag lunch to the library and review the current bestsellers. If you think this is a good idea, call Jean, Agnes, or leave your names at the library.

Kathryn Whitaker wants her Tribune customers to know she has a broken ankle and will be depending on a friend to do her route until she is back on her feet in five or six weeks. She asks indulgence if the paper is later than usual because it must be delivered after her friend's regular job. Her phone number is 728-3048 if you have questions.

Final reminder of Little League registration this Friday, the 12th, from 7 to 9 p.m. and again on Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon. All players must register those days or cannot be guaranteed a spot on a team. New players must bring a birth certificate or a copy.

There will be a concert by the WCS High School and Jazz bands tonight, the 11th, at 7:30 in the high school auditorium. The Band Boosters are putting out a newsletter for parents of band members with the first issue due soon. Val Reamer is the Boosters president. Jean Dutches is secretary, and Jan Burroughs is treasurer.

Help for Adolescent Mothers, the teen parent program, is offering free teen childbirth classes in Dansville and Avon during March and April. Infant Care classes for parents of one to four year olds will also be given. For information or to volunteer, call 335-3103.

There was a wonderful turnout for the Blessing of Babies and Small Children at St. Joseph's on Sunday afternoon and everyone enjoyed refreshment in the school hall and all the children received balloons and certificates.

Jim Flatts presented an overview of vocational education programs at the Family School Association meeting Wednesday evening at the school. The group meets the second Wednesday of each month at 7 p.m. and all parents are encouraged to attend.

Rich Martello will talk over "The Family, Drugs and Children" at 10:30 a.m. this Friday, the 12th, at the Wayland Free Library. There is no charge and everyone is welcome and Storyhour for three to five year olds is in session at the same time. The program is very relaxed and informal and parents with younger children are welcome to bring them along.

There is an exhibit of materials on parenting, children, and families in the front case of the library. It is sponsored by Community Youth Services. Most of the information is available from your cooperative Extension office.

The leaders meeting for all Girl Scout volunteers in the Wayland School District has been rescheduled and will be held tonight (Thursday, the 11th) at 7 o'clock in the Little House. Chairman Marianne Peterson emphasized the necessity for each troop to be represented to pick up program packs.

Friends Unlimited will have a Valentine Party on the 17th at 7:30 p.m. in St. Joseph's School. New members are welcome. Call 728-2198 for more information.

Wayland Cadette Troop 350 sends thanks to everyone who supported its rummage sale and Bowliathon. Each event brings them closer to that trip to South Carolina.

Wayland Golden Agers meet today at St. Paul's. Doors open at 3 p.m. and dinner is served at 5:30 p.m. Anyone age 55 or over is welcome to join.

Call Harry Palmer at 728-5529 if you are interested in the 55 Alive/Mature Driving class at the Wayland Fire Hall on the 20th and 27th or send a check for $10 to him at 2660 E. Naples in Wayland 14572 payable to A.A.R.P.

Don't forget the big Sled Dog Derby this weekend at the NCA Sports Club on the 13th and 14th. The first race out on Saturday is 11:30 a.m. the first weight pull on Sunday is at 9:30 a.m. There is no charge for spectators and refreshments will be available.

There will be a pancake breakfast in the Perkinsville Fire Hall Sunday, the 14th, serving from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Adults eat for $3.25, senior citizens for $3.00 and children six to 12 for $2.00 with age five and under free with their family. The menu includes pancakes, sausage, eggs, toast, fried potatoes, ham, milk, and coffee.

Barb Marshall will open "Barb's Chateau" this weekend with live music on Saturday, the 13th.

The newly-remodeled St. James operated by the Smiths will also have a grand opening this Saturday with music. Good luck to both new area businesses and their new owners.

Congratulations to all the WCS student artists for their outstanding achievements in the Scholastic Art competition! Rob Bondgren was nominated for the Hallmark Honor Prize, Heidi Henning was nominated for a Kodak Medalion of Excellence, and Brian Essler's portfolio will be sent to the national judging. These are just a small part of the many WCS awards to take a trip to the Arnot Museum in Elmira some time this month and see what wonderful things these young artists are doing.

Johanna Gardner is on the Dean's List at Monroe Community with a 4.0 average, her daughter, Lisa Cote, is on the Dean's List at Morrisville College and son, Darin Cote, is a teaching assistant at the University of Massachusetts.

News for the week must be in my hands on Monday. Please do not be disappointed.
